The Huttlestonian XXL

Colophon

The yearbook staff came up with the theme reach for the stars based on the Latin phrases located on the front main entrances of the main building. Latin phrases pertaining to each section are used throughout the book. The cover was designed by FHS senior artist Hannah Robidoux.

The Huttlestonian 2010 was printed by Lifetouch Yearbooks in Loves Park, Illinois. Our publishing representative was Katherine Curley. There were 140 copies in our press run. The book covers events from fall 2009 through most of spring 2010. The type faces include Times New Roman.

Our cover is a custom design created by the school, a Litho Cover in full process ink. The trim size is 8 x 10.5. The book is a tight backed binding of 150-point binder board. The yearbook staff produced the entire book online using the Lifetouch Yearbooks, Volumes Premier Online program.

Senior portraits, underclassman portraits, school activities, and sports teams were photographed by Maré Studios & Galleries, Center Street, New Bedford, Massachusetts.

Dear Senior Class,

This school is full of memories from over one hundred years, and the four years that we have attended this school have been added to its narration. Although one would like to, one cannot possibly remember all of the experiences that took place in school.

We have tried to create a book that will capture all of the good times we have had. We hope that you will look back in this book and remember some of the best years of our lives. Congrats, Class of 2010!

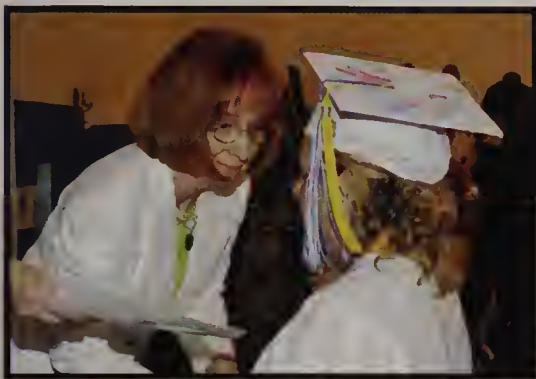

Sincerely,
The Yearbook Staff

60 years of combined teaching at FHS

By Nicole Ustinovich

Three teachers are retiring from Fairhaven High School this school year. They are Kathleen Goes, Penelope Harvey, and Diane Perry.

Music teacher Kathleen Goes sounded her last note as she retired from FHS after 19 years of teaching music. The Drama Club, as it stands today, was started by her in 1995. She directed 15 productions and co-advised her 16th this past spring. She will miss working on shows, flipping burgers at fairs, laughing at each other's mistakes, crying together through the difficult times, and the way everyone acts after a concert. Her fondest memories include taking the chorus to New York to see a Broadway Musical where some of her students "mobbed" her, screaming her name like she was a famous person. Several passers-by were so convinced they too snapped photos of her. One message she wants to leave students is that nobody should think they are better than anyone else because of likes and dislikes. "We are all important in this world and our likes, dislikes, concentrations, abilities and talents are all different but no less important than the other," she said. "We need to become a more tolerant society."

English teacher Penelope Harvey will miss having someone to talk to about literature and ideas both in and out of the classroom. Having taught here for thirty years, one of her fondest memories include taking students to France and England. She also leaves some pearls of wisdom. "I would hope that someday, students could identify with Jorge Luis Borges' comment 'I have always imagined that paradise will be a kind of library' or Dr. Seuss' 'The more that you read, the more things you will know, the more you learn, the more places you'll go.'"

"Adios" is the Spanish word for goodbye, which is what we said to Spanish teacher Diane Perry, who retires this year. But it is not really goodbye, it is more like "hasta luego" or see you later. She has taught for a total of 37 1/2 years, 11 at FHS and 26 years at Hastings Middle School teaching French, Spanish and Latin. She has run The Spanish Club for as long as she has taught here. She is going to miss seeing how responsible kids act and how they handle adult roles as club officers. She loves seeing how her students understand and apply new concepts and ideas, the colorful opinions that are said, and the various senses of humor. She is not going to miss anything at all about the computers. She will miss the daily interaction with students and conversing with her friends and colleagues. Her fondest memories include the French and Spanish Club Lip Sync contests, AP students moving forward in exams and class and Drama Club performances. Her favorites include Annie and Guys and Dolls. Her pearls of wisdom include Be positive; Keep smiling; and You too will retire someday.

Our best thoughts are with each of them as they continue with their future goals and pursuits.

Our class began its fundraising journey selling candy bars and baked goods during freshman year. We then increased our work load by selling roses on Valentine's Day, arranging a student-teacher basketball game, and washing cars in May during the following year.

Our most successful fundraisers were in spring 2009, co-hosting Fairhaven Idol with the Class of 2011 and selling Yankee Candles, raising over a thousand dollars each.

During our senior year, we sold Sen10rs t-shirts and hosted a badminton tournament to conclude our time at Fairhaven High.

None of our fundraisers would have been possible without the volunteering efforts of our classmates and the dedication and organizational skills of our advisors Ms. Bergeron, Ms. Pittsley and Ms. Mandeville.

Sen10rs,

I can still remember our first day of school our freshman year when Ms. Muello said to us, "You might not believe me now, but these four years are going to fly." I didn't believe it then, but I certainly believe it now. Our high school years indeed have flown by, but they have made for an unforgettable experience. We are all diverse students with unique interests, but we have truly come together as one class and used our different talents to make the Class of 2010 one of Fairhaven High's most memorable. After being a part of our class, I have no doubt in my mind that each of us will go on to excel in our lives and succeed at anything and everything we do. Congrats, Class of 2010!

Quote: "All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them." ~ Walt Disney

Two Latin phrases that can be seen at the main entrances of the main building are ad astra, meaning "to the stars," and carpe diem, popularized as "seize the day."

Since the beginning, Fairhaven High School students have been motivated by those inscriptions to work their hardest. As the Class of 2010 continues its journey, they should never forget the significance of the following two poems: "The Road Not Taken" by Robert Frost and "If" by Rudyard Kipling.

The Road Not Taken

by Robert Frost

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I--
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

If—

by Rudyard Kipling

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or, being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or, being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream--and not make dreams your master;
If you can think--and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with triumph and disaster
And treat those two impostors just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with wornout tools;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on";

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings--nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run--
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And--which is more--you'll be a Man, my son!

Class of 2010: Veni, vidi, vici - "I came, I saw, I conquered." ~ Anonymous

During their high school years, underclassmen work hard to raise the funds they will need for their senior year expenses. This year, every class did their best to make sure they will not have to worry about money for their Prom, while having fun along the way.

The junior class has been very busy this year. Working with the senior class, they alternated selling concessions at basketball games. Their biggest fundraiser of the year, however, was the Masquerade Ball, a first at FHS. It replaced the Snowball Dance. The junior class raised $500, and the night was regarded as a complete success. Other fundraisers included Fairhaven Idol, a Car Wash, a booth at the Victorian Christmas, and product sales, candy-grams and flip-flops.

The sophomores made progress this year with fundraising. They held 50/50 raffles at basketball games and had the "Computer Compatibility" test. Other fundraising events scheduled were a Baseball Camp fundraiser planned with the baseball team, tagging, and a 20 percent profit dinner night.

The freshman class has had a great start at fundraising, bringing in two new major events to the school. In April, they had a Wii Sports Tournament in the Performing Arts Center. They also hosted a dodgeball tournament based on classes at the Fairhaven Recreational Center in May.

From freshman to senior year, students work hard to raise money to reach their ultimate goal -- a beautiful prom, a night to remember forever. It looks like all the classes are working hard to make their goal a reality.

Dear Juniors,

Reaching the final stretch of our years at FHS, we can begin to look back and appreciate all we have accomplished. Pushing ahead, we will always have the fond memories rooted in these halls. It is an honor for us to be your class presidents, and we look forward to enjoying our senior year together.

To the class of 2012,

I would like to start out by thanking you for voting for me as our class president for a second year in a row. The other class officers and I are working hard doing fundraiser after fundraiser to raise as much money as we can to have the best for our class; we greatly appreciate all of those who have participated. I hope you are having a great high school experience, and the best of luck in the years to come.

Dear graduating class of 2013,

I would like to start off by saying thank you for giving me the opportunity to be the president of our class. In this year, we have already made the achievement of transitioning from middle-schoolers to young adults, and I could not be more proud. This year has been full of great memories and high spirits, and I hope our next three years will be just as eventful and exciting!

Kanako Ijima from Japan

By Chelsea Burke

Kanako Ijima is a foreign exchange student from Tokyo, Japan. She is staying with Kristen Fields, a junior here at Fairhaven High.

Unlike many teens, Ijima decided on her future career about four years ago. She wants to be a diplomat to help make world peace.

"I have to study English more to pass the examination to be a diplomat," she said. "I know how important friends are, so I never want people to lose their friends by wars. I know it's not easy to stop wars, but I would like to start the process."

Ijima is a part of the international club. She played field hockey in the fall and lacrosse in the spring.

"In the US, I have many chances to play field hockey," said Ijima. "In Japan, it's not a popular sport, so I had no chance to play."

She took U.S. History Honors, English II, French 2 Honors, Photo 1, Ceramics 1, and Biology Honors. Although it may seem like a tough course load, she has help from her friends, including Bethany Jenkins, who helps her in History, Photo, and Biology. She has also become good friends with Kristen Fields, Tori Perry, Meghan Dorian, Gabby Normandeau, and Allison Daigle.

Ijima went to a private high school in Japan where she had to wear a school uniform.

"The uniform looks like a sailor suit," said Ijima. "And, we can wear only black or deep blue coats or blouses."

Students at her private school could not wear makeup or dye their hair, and if they brought a phone to school, teachers would confiscate it until their parents came to get it. Outside of school, however, many young girls like to wear miniskirts. Ijima also likes to go to shops where there are karaoke rooms.

Ijima says that the food in the U.S. is more oily than Japanese food, and in Japan, she ate rice at least once a day. However, she does like American food, especially French fries. Also in Japan, most people like natto, which is fermented soybeans. While McDonald's can be found all over Japan, Subway is not quite as popular, and there are no Dunkin' Donuts in Japan.

"I love this town, my host family, and my friends in America, so I want to come back," said Ijima, "but the job [of a diplomat] is very busy, so after I retire, I want to come back here."

An active Media Center

By Sem. 2 Print Media Students

The busy FHS Media Center underwent a name change to the Bernard F. Roderick Library/Media Center. Besides the name change, the Center has under-gone changes with technology and teaching.

Roderick served FPS for 32 years, as a principal at East Fairhaven Elementary School and then as superintendent. Friends and family honored him with a reception in the FHS Rotunda on June 17, 2009.

The library didn't just have a name change. Although Information Media Studies has been taught previously, this year students utilized the new computer lab area.

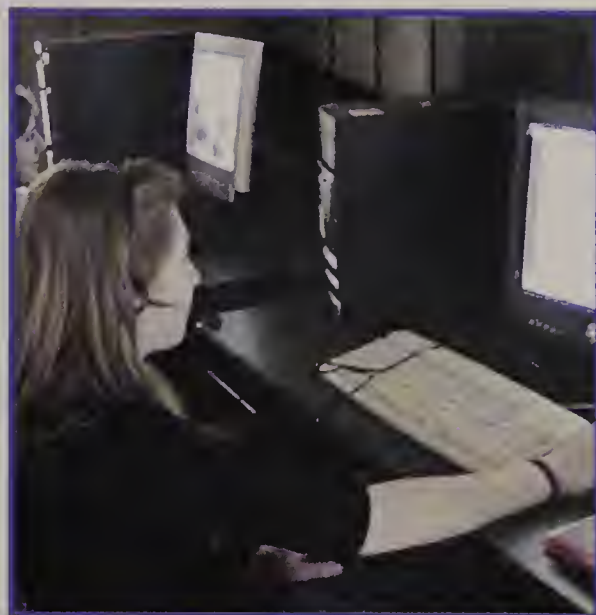

The lab came about due to the generosity of the FHS Alumni. After many years of using their funding to restore the school's interior, the group's mission was expanded to one of being a community partner.

The Board gave $6,000 to purchase matching computer tables for 28 new computers that were installed in the media center, along with an Elmo document reader, and $250 to purchase books.

The old "track" upstairs in the library/media center is being utilized for "running" computer software called The Rosetta Stone.

Rosetta Stone is an interactive program that teaches new languages by immersion. It offers 31 different languages for students to choose from. Currently, 38 students are enrolled. The enrolled students have chosen Italian, Latin, French, Swedish, Portuguese, Spanish, German, Russian, and Japanese.

"The challenging component of the program is that each student needs to be capable of working independently and needs to pace themselves accordingly," said Mrs. Bergeron.

Junior Danielle Caron studies German from Rosetta Stone.

Ms. Kathleen Clement instructs students in Information Media Studies.

Dear Class of 2010,

For the past two years I have gotten to know you, the Class of 2010. I'm sure I speak for the entire Fairhaven High School family when I say it has been an honor to serve you. I challenge each and every one of you to make the most of the future that lay before you.

Although you will likely go in very different directions, I am certain that the strong foundation you had here in Fairhaven will give you the ability to accomplish anything you set your mind to. Find something you love to do, make a difference, and stay grounded.

Remember, you will always be a Fairhaven High School graduate. Wear that honor with pride, for you have just joined the ranks of many wonderful men and women who have come before you. You now also have the ability to pave the way for all of those waiting to follow in your footsteps. Make the most of your future.

Tough times Budget cuts affect school year

By Rose Oliva

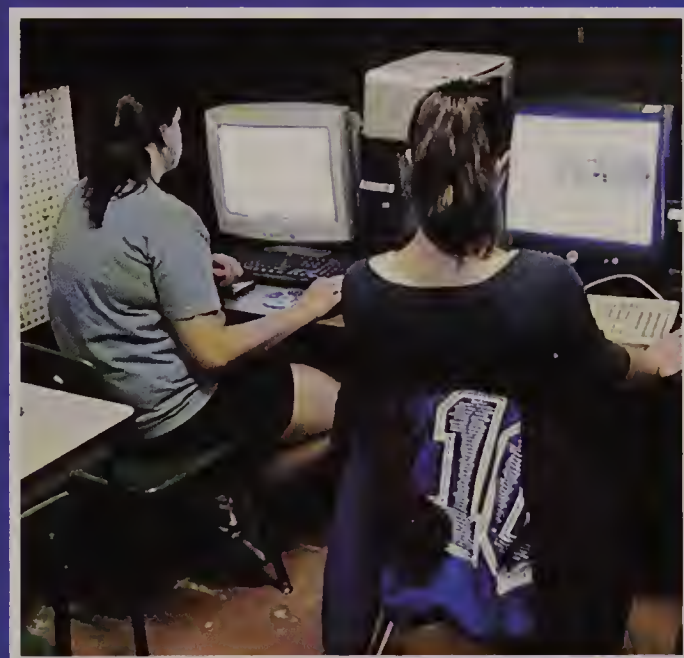

FY-10 was a challenging year for Fairhaven High because of the struggling economy and lowered budget. We lost a handful of academics teachers and a guidance counselor, and department head positions were replaced with academic supervisor positions.

Despite the losses, Fairhaven still continued to push towards a more innovative education for its students. The Rosetta Stone program was offered for the first time, allowing students to learn a variety of world languages from German to Japanese.

Also, fresh faces were hired to join our academic faculty, as well as Ashley MacPherson in the guidance department. Despite extreme budget cuts, Fairhaven managed to still push forward and offer an always-improving education to its students.

A few new classes were offered this year including Criminal Justice, Music Video, Sustainable Future, Engineering 1-2, and Robotics 1-2. This is the second year for Pop Culture and Sports Writing.

Fairhaven Public Schools adopted a policy to charge high school students for riding the bus to and from school as a result of the cuts. Halfway through the year, however, this decision was repealed, and students who had paid were refunded.

Despite not having worked, the bus fee has been proposed for next school year and is pending approval by the school committee.

Cable Communications Club:

The club handles a variety of duties. One is the "Good Morning FHS" daily TV morning show, the only "live" show in the area which is broadcast throughout the school and Comcast viewers in Fairhaven. Anchor tryouts are held at the beginning of each semester. Students work before school to report the latest club announcements along with a wrap-up of the previous night's sports activities. After school, "Fairhaven Weekly" is produced by juniors Doug Braley and Amelia Katan. In its second year, this show has become a FHS tradition with game shows such as Jeopardy and Family Feud, "live" guests and entertaining features. A BD-TV Board of Directors decide on field trips (NY 2010), fundraisers, scholarships, and general programming guidelines. Along with making birthday and special event boards for a fee, and creating graduation DVDs and bulletin boards, the students are in charge of hosting the Miss Blue Devil and the 2nd annual "six-hour live" telethon that is held in the spring.

The Huttlestonian:

The staff helped to produce a 152-page, full color book. A tier payment system was introduced. Early Bird pricing was $75 until Halloween. The regular price of $85 ran until New Year's Eve. Finally, the Last Chance Sale of $95 was given until Valentine's Day. Fundraisers were held including Little Miss Blue Devil (with 10 participants raising $868) and Haunted House ($1,045). With a smaller senior class, the total number of books ordered was 140 copies. Sponsor page ads were introduced this year for $10.

Honor Society:

The National Honor Society is the pinnacle of achievement at FHS. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, membership is determined on grades, leadership, service, and character.

Student Government:

Student Government is responsible for running all class officer elections in the spring and in the fall (freshmen). The elected club officers were Tim DesRoches (President), Corinne Fortin (VP), Rose Oliva (Treasurer) and Amelia Katan (Secretary).

DesRoches and Katan were elected by the students and represented FHS on April 9 in Boston for Student Government Day.

Positive Influence:

The "Pi" Club is a student-based initiative that started last year by students who wanted to declare that it is okay to be drug and alcohol free throughout high school. The club planned monthly activities (i.e. bowling, kickball, family game nights) and promoted all events to the entire student body in an effort to share their message. The club was always willing to take on additional projects that promoted healthy choices and address social issues facing teens.

French and Spanish Club:

The clubs sometimes combine to discuss the cultures together. Both clubs sponsored the French vs. Spanish volleyball game.

International Club:

The purpose of club is to promote diversity, and cultural understanding and awareness. The club helps in placing foreign exchange students with host families in the Fairhaven community. This year, the club helped to coordinate host families for 6 Japanese foreign exchange students from our sister school in Japan. The students attended FHS for 2 weeks in mid-March. At the annual AFS/International Club weekend, the club hosted a welcoming party at FHS for foreign exchange students. These students were living with families throughout Cape Cod to Providence for the school year. For one weekend in March, all these students came together in the Fairhaven, New Bedford, and Dartmouth area for an activities-filled weekend.

Interact Club:

The Interact Club sponsored the Wear Your Cap to School Day, where students pay $1 to wear their hat during school. This national event raised money for children going through chemotherapy. The club also donated items for the Winter Warmth Drive and brought them to the Salvation Army as a gift to the homeless. They collected cans for the Cans Across the Park, as well as collected money for the Neediest Family Fund and Pennies for Patients.

Above: The Positive Influence (Pi) group members present projects about being alcohol and drug free.

Back Table L-R: Honor Society members Lauren Faria, Andrew DaCunha, and Alex Borges compete in an Honor Bowl at Seekonk.

Clubs/Activities

In the spring, the club did a 20-mile walk through Boston to help feed Massachusetts food shelters, and celebrated the United Way's Day of Caring. The club also participated in a 24-hour relay done in New Bedford to raise money and awareness for Cancer.

Robotics Club:

The club gets together and builds robots for their future competitions. The club attended two competitions this year in Boston and Worcester.

Chess Club:

Chess Club met after school to practice skills for their matches. In March, the Chess Team won the Southcoast Championship against Wareham High School. The chess team's overall season was 12-1-1.

Music Groups:

This year the band, jazz band, orchestra, and concert choir traveled to New York City for a musical festival in April. The club had some very successful fundraising events including the Holiday Wreath and Swag and candy bar sales. They also had a successful Winter Concert in December, Pop's Concert in March, String Explosion in April, and Spring Concert in May.

Peer Mentors:

The Peer Mentors organize and help with the incoming freshmen and help them adjust into the high school experience.

Math Club:

The Math Club practices equations for future tournaments and for the first time in many years, the Math Club qualified. Rose Oliva was the club's standout performer.

Poetry Club:

Poetry Club meets every week to share poems they've written and to brainstorm new pieces.

Drama Club:

The Drama Club's 2010 performance was The King and I. With former director Kathleen Goes retiring this year, the club worked extra hard to make Ms. Goes' last show a good one. Students did much fundraising, practiced three nights a week, and worked on the set construction each week. The cast included the FHS students as well as some middle school and elementary school children. The musical was held on March 25-28.

Art Club:

Art Club offers students an outlet to create and talk about art, along with working together to produce items. The club has been very successful in learning drawing skills, drawing figures from a (clothed) model, investigating formal painting techniques which include making their own canvases and painting everything from Mr. Williams' collection of bones to expressive self portraits. The club raised money for an art scholarship and learned how to screen print their own tee-shirt designs.

Memorabilia - Memorable things

Prom 2009 was celebrated at Christina's in Foxboro, Massachusetts. Prior to the Prom, many juniors and seniors participated in the Promenade in the Performing Arts Center where they and their dates were introduced to the audience of parents and friends. The king, queen, prince, and princess were announced. After Promenade, students gathered on the bus to get to Christina's, where they ate dinner and danced all night. Although it was around midnight when students returned to Fairhaven, most still didn't go home. Instead, they stayed for the cruise-themed After Prom, which included a mechanical surfboard, laser tag, human bowling, and toilet racing. Many thanks to the After Prom Committee for throwing a fantastic party.

Principal Tara Kohler gives her first Junior Day speech at FHS.

It is a time honored tradition at Fairhaven High School, the day the junior class becomes seniors. On May 29, 2009, The Seniors descended the stairs and proceeded from the Knipe Auditorium to the Gym.

At the Knipe, they gathered according to height where the girls were given the traditional yellow carnations. Wearing white and tan, they marched into the Gym with the unique FHS "walk."

As they sat down, the 2009 graduating class entered the gym. Then the festivities began. Awards were given and music was played. It is the traditional handing down of seniority, a tradition not done in any other school, a tradition students of Fairhaven High still treasure.

As has been the tradition for numerous years, underclassmen went home at 11 a.m. and the seniors were invited to a yearbook signing party in the cafeteria where pizza, drinks, and cake was also served.

Homecoming Dance

Memorabilia - Memorable Things

Homecoming was put on and hosted by the cheerleaders. Here the cheerleaders and their coach are announcing the Homecoming King and Queen.

A highlight of the Homecoming Dance was Zach Margeson, an exceptionally talented dancer.

A large group of students surround Zach Margeson as he dances to a Michael Jackson song.

Above: Senior Ethan Gonet is the mad scientist's assistant.

The 4th Annual Haunted High School was held on Oct. 29 and 30, 2009 as a fundraiser to benefit the 2010 Huttlestonian Yearbook. FHS students led tours through the beautiful, spooky Castle on the Hill, also known as Fairhaven High School.

Students enjoy acting in the various settings, including the mad scientist lab, haunted gym, and ghostly study hall. The halls were low lit with white lighting for an ominous feeling and mysterious setting. This year included a few new additions such as the blizzard room, and the prom ghost in the library.

Starting at 6 p.m. and ending at 8:30 p.m., the two-night event raised close to $1,000.

Miss Blue Devil 2009-10

By Stacey Pimental

The 6th annual Miss Blue Devil Pageant was held on Dec. 1, in the Performing Arts Center. This year's "Through the Decades and Into the Future" drew in 11 contestants.

The pageant began with a dance to the hit song "Bad Romance" by Lady Gaga choreographed by yearbook staffers Danny Vitorino and Andie Cardoza.

The girls competed in five areas within the pageant. They had to show off their casual wear, get creative with a cool costume, have an awesome talent, dress up for formal, and the top five girls had to answer a pageant question.

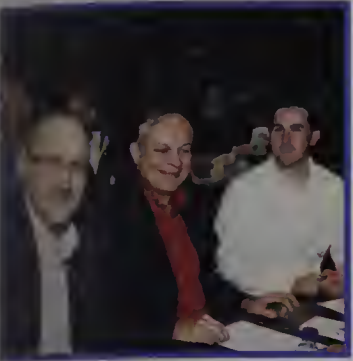

Only the top five remained after the formal wear. The top five girls were Alexandria Brine, Alyssa Jones, Rose Oliva, Allysha Silva, and Ashley Vertente. They then answered a pageant question.

The judges said it was a tough decision. Winning the Miss Blue Devil crown was Oliva. Placing second was Vertente and third was Silva.

The top five girls were invited to ride on a float for Memorial Day.

For her talent, Oliva displayed her line of clothing "OlivaRose" in a fashion show. Vertente painted a Blue Devil mascot upside down. Silva performed a ballroom/hip-hop dance with senior Alex Borges.

The talent competition was a mix. Melanie Westgate sang "Defying Gravity" from the musical Wicked. Emma Gubler showed her artistic skills by painting to music. Nicole Magalhaes-Desrosiers performed a dance to "Jingle Bell Rock" with a few friends. Meredith Winnett put together a Powerpoint presentation of her photography. Alyssa Jones car-danced to a mix of songs she created. Renee Roderick performed a dance to a mix of songs she made with the help of some friends. Alexandria Brine danced and sang to the song "I'm on a Boat." Nicole Ustinovich sang a tribute to television shows.

The girls were judged by radio personalities: Pete Braley from WBSM, & JR & Michael Rock from Fun107.

Hosting the event were FHS seniors Jared Langlois & Katlynn Ferreira.

The 2009 band and chorus teamed up together to perform a final musical number in the concert finale. This is the first time this has been performed here at Fairhaven High School.

Masquerade Ball

Memorabilia - Memorable Things

Usually the Snowball Dance took place in January/February, but the juniors wanted to shake things up with something new. For the first time, ever, at FHS, the junior class put on the Masquerade Ball.

The Masquerade Ball was a success with a profit of 500 dollars for the junior class.

The major event of the evening was the mask competition, which was won by senior Jessica Charnley. Refreshments were sold by the juniors. Music was provided by Fun 107's Scott Reiniche.

It was a fabulous evening for everyone that attended.

Sophomore Devin Soares leads a Conga line.

The King

The King and I opened on Broadway in 1951 and was the sixth collaboration for the team of Rodgers and Hammerstein. It ran for 1,246 performances and made numerous revivals. This year, Fairhaven High School made its first revival of the musical from the first performance in the early 80's. Mr. Brejcher directed the show this year with help from Ms. Kathy Goes, Mr. John Costa, and Ms. Traci Antil. It was performed from March 25-28 in the P.A.C. Tickets were $15 adults, $12 students/seniors, $10 children 12 & under.

Fall Sports

Winter

Football: The numbers were down this year for the Fairhaven High football team, but the skill level was not. Taylor Motta, Myles Perron-Sovik, and Eric Stroud led the offense and Zach Edwards, Zach LeBlanc, and Alex Casteel contributed to the team on defense. The boys pulled out a big win against Dartmouth High at the annual Thanksgiving Day Game. Motta was the Standard Times Offensive Player of the Year and was nominated for the Otto Graham Achievement Award for FHS. Sovik made the S-T Super Team.

Cheerleading: Along with the rest of the cheerleaders, seniors Lauren Bettencourt, Amanda Costa, and Nicole Desrosiers, and Alyson Oliveira rooted for FHS's football and basketball teams.

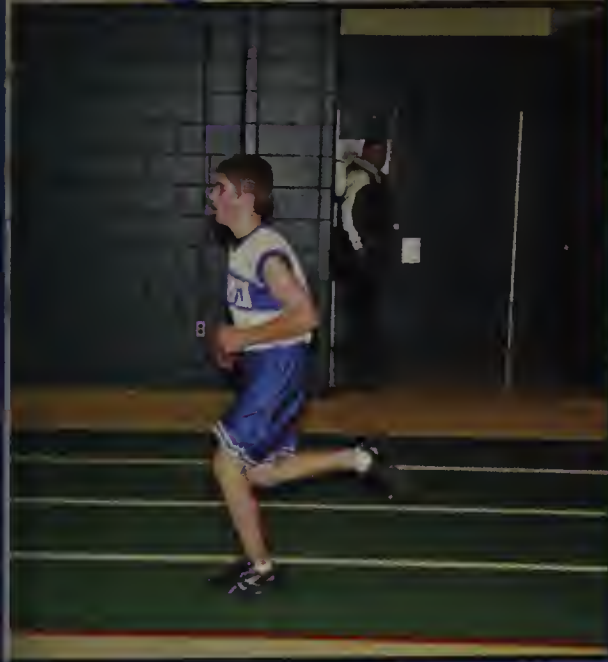

Volleyball: This year, the girls volleyball team was looking to improve from the last season. The Lady Devils beat their rival, Bourne. Jenna Andrade, and Melanie Westgate led the defense while Kristen Cregan, Emma Riley, and Leah Ketchum. led the offense. Calling all of the plays on the court was setter Lauren Lopes, a Standard Times 2009 All Star. Sophomores Kara Charette and Kelsey Perron-Sovik made the Second Team, & Kayli Moniz made HM.

Field Hockey: The field hockey team only had five returning players, all seniors. With Morgan O'Neale and Jayne Guerra on offense, Samantha Lopes and Gretchen Hanczaryk on defense, and Jaime Mello at midfield. These six seniors proved themselves this year. Jayne Guerra and Brianna Reagan were chosen for the Standard Times' Second Team.

Girls Soccer: Coach Derek Galvam felt that the girls were doing better this year skill-wise, and he chose to change up some of the girls' positions. With great defensive play from Allysha Silva and Julia Denardis and offensive play from Taylor Coelho, the girls managed to make it to the first round of the tournament. The Standard Times selected Allysha Silva for Super Team, Christina Pottel for Second Team, and Harriet Beaulieu and Corinne Fortin for Honorable Mention.

Boys Soccer: Seniors Alex Borges, Ian Correia, Andrew DaCunha, Jared Espindola, and Christian Hopp led the soccer team this year. The team missed the skills from graduated players and was not as victorious as they have been in the past.

Sports

Spring Sports

Cross Country: This year's cross country team primarily consisted of four freshmen. Senior Christopher Grinnell started late in the season. The team competed as a club this year.

Boys Golf: The golf team was yet another team without seniors. Juniors Brad Carvalho, Kit Costa, Tyler Rucker, along with a sophomore and two freshmen, made up the starting line-up. Brad Carvalho was chosen for the Standard Times' Honorable Mention.

Girls Basketball: The girls basketball team had two seniors this year, Elizabeth Morris and Morgan O'Neale. The girls had a record of 12 - 7 and lost in their first tournament game. Sophomore Kara Charette made the Standard Times' Super Team and Kelsey Perron-Sovik made the Second Team. O'Neale was nominated for the Dave Cowens Award.

Boys Basketball: Seniors Christian Hopp, Jared Espindola, Taylor Motta, Myles Perrin-Sovik led the boys basketball team to a 11-10 season. Junior Adam Mullen made the Standard Times' Second Team. Senior Taylor Motta made S-T Honorable Mention.

Girls Winter Track: Fairhaven High's girls winter track team had a record of 5 - 4. Seniors Jaime Mello, Katlynn Ferriera, Allysha Silva, Chelsea Burke Megan Faunce, Kristen Cregan, Emma Riley, Julia DeNardis, and Briana Regan displayed great talent. Allysha Silva made the Standard Times' Second Team and beat her own school record in the 1,000 M race. Regan & Faunce made ST HM.

Boys Winter Track: Boys Track had five seniors, Nick Suffoletto, Chace Jabotte, Eric Stroud, Zach Edwards, and Alex Borges. Edwards received 5th place in shot put at the SCC meet. The team placed 9th of 9 teams in the conference.

FHS/ORR Hockey: Fairhaven High had three players on the combined hockey team this year. Ray Lawton, Sean Allaire, and Trent Bertrand all played key roles for the team. Lawton, a junior forward, received the MIAA Student-Athlete Award. and made the S-T Second team.

Japanese Foreign Exchange

From March 15-26, Fairhaven hosted six Japanese foreign exchange students and their teacher from its sister city, Tosashimizu. The six girls – Megumi Yoshimura, Natsumi Hirota, Kirari Shimizu, Narumi Arisawa, Arisa Kumon, and Sachiko Hashimoto – were selected from many applicants in their school and have concentrated on learning the English language.

Takuya Arisawa, who was a bit more fluent in English than his students, led and chaperoned the girls through their visit to America. Despite their slight language barrier, Fairhaven students welcomed and connected with their guests almost immediately. Among these students were junior Luke Bateman and senior Andie Cardoza who, having studied Japanese in their Rosetta Stone class this past year, assisted the students during their visit.

“It’s been sweet having them here,” said Bateman, “I’ve had a lot of fun helping them around. They really brought the Japanese culture that I love to Fairhaven.”

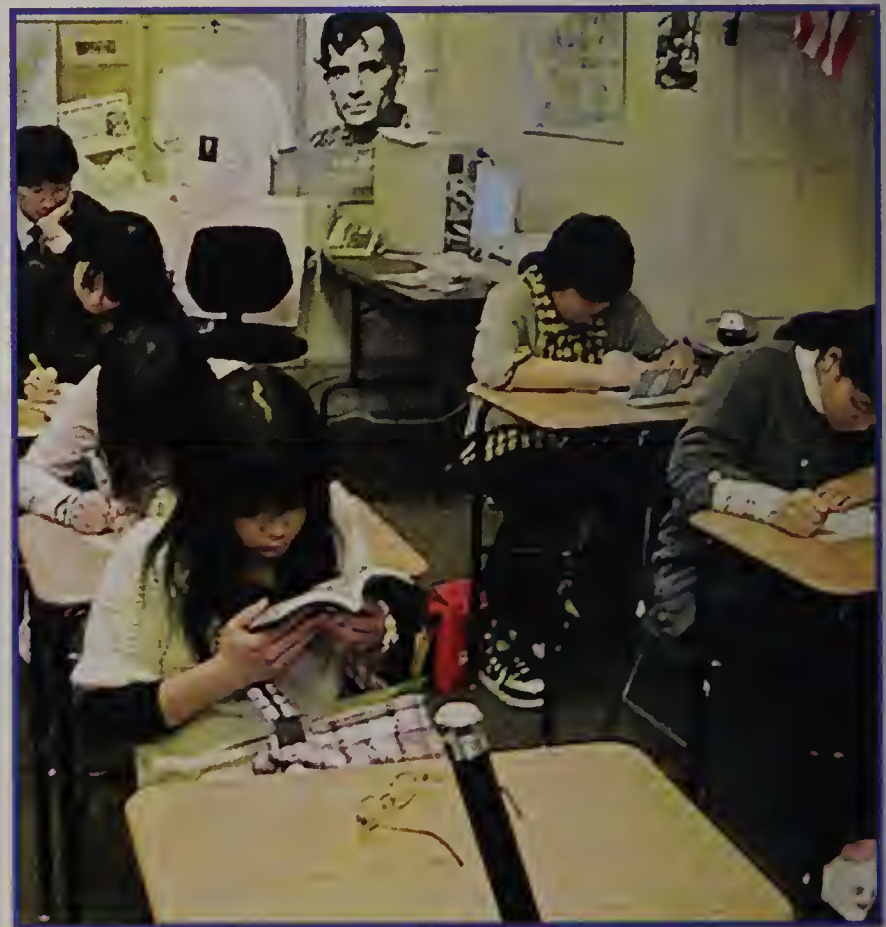

The exchange students had to attend classes during their two-week stay, but they did not sit through Math or English like other students. Their days included activities and lessons in Ceramics, Robotics, Pop Culture, Yoga, Media, Music Video, and Great Films. Students exchanged e-mails and presents with the students and plan to keep in touch with the girls after they return to Japan.

Tosashimizu, a city in the southern island of Shikoku, Japan, is connected with Fairhaven due to its being the birthplace of John Manjiro, a shipwrecked Japanese fisherman who was rescued and brought to Fairhaven by whaling captain William Whitfield. During the students' last day in Fairhaven, they were taken on a tour of the Manjiro trail, which leads throughout several historical spots in the town, such as the Millicent library.

The girls seemed to have a wonderful time overall, and they are certainly missed by their Fairhaven High classmates.

L-R: Arisa Kumon, Megumi Yoshimura, and Kirari Shimizu grab their things for lunch.

The girls study fads and trends in Pop Culture class with Mr. Hevey.

Bottom L-R: Sachiko Hashimoto, Natsumi Hirota, and Narumi Arisawa.

Main participants in this exchange event were International Club advisers Rebecca Bergeron and Tara Costa (left and middle), and Shimizu High School teacher Takuya Arisawa (right).

SLIPPERY SLOPE

Nearly 16 million Americans lost their jobs in the wake of the recession. The increased wave of lay-offs put the national unemployment rate at 10.2%, the highest in over 26 years. Although the economy began to rebound from the worst recession in 70 years, employers continued to be wary.

BALLOON HOAX

Millions watched as a large metallic balloon, said to be carrying a 6 year old boy, soared through the air in Colorado. When it landed and "balloon boy" Falcon Heene was not inside, the world was relieved to learn he had been hiding in the attic the entire time. Three days later, after a telling interview, the whole spectacle was deemed a hoax in the parents' pursuit of fame and fortune. The parents pled guilty to criminal charges and received jail time.

LIBERTY REOPENS

On July 4th one of the nation's most recognizable symbols of freedom, the Statue of Liberty, reopened its crown to visitors. After the September 11th attacks, the monument was closed to all visitors until 2004 when the base and lower observation decks were reopened. Guests will be allowed to make the 168-stair climb to the top for the next two years, when the crown will close again for safety work.

FORT HOOD TRAGEDY

On November 5, 2009, Fort Hood, America's largest military base, transformed from a place where soldiers prepare for war to an actual battlefield. Major Nidal Malik Hasan, a licensed military psychiatrist, opened fire in the processing center where soldiers report before deployment. Twelve soldiers and one civilian lost their lives, while 30 others were injured, including Hasan. In the past, Hasan had been openly critical about the war on terror.

CLUNKERS MAKE SOME NOISE

For nearly a month in the summer of 2009 America was consumed by CARS (Car Allowance Rebate System), commonly known as Cash for Clunkers. The government program was designed to encourage drivers to trade-in old gas-guzzlers in favor of new, fuel-efficient vehicles. With an incentive of up to $4,500, the program was wildly successful and nearly 700,000 cars were traded in.

A MUSIC ICON REMEMBERED

Legendary performer Michael Jackson passed away suddenly at the age of 50. As news spread of his death, the internet suffered a significant slowdown as people worldwide conducted simultaneous searches. Jackson was also nominated for five American Music Awards in 2009, including Artist of the Year, after his music saw a tremendous surge in sales and airplay. As a final tribute, Sony Pictures released This Is It. The never-before-seen footage of Jackson rehearsing for his final 50 shows was a massive success, making millions.

NUCLEAR TEST

North Korea conducted a series of rocket and missile tests, including an underground nuclear bomb test in an attempt to lure the U.S. into talks to loosen sanctions. The international community was outraged, stating that the test was in clear violation of international law. In 2008, North Korea agreed to suspend its nuclear testing in exchange for economic stimulus, but the deal fell through after it removed inspectors from the country.

ALL A BUZZ

Kovyo Shivashankar, a 13 year old from Kansas, won the Scripps National Spelling Bee. A four-time competitor and aspiring neurosurgeon, Kovyo won the trophy and more than $40,000 in cash and prizes with her correct spelling of "Loodicean" — meaning lukewarm or indifferent in religion or politics.

CATASTROPHIC QUAKE

The island nation of Haiti was struck by a devastating 7.0 magnitude earthquake so strong it could be felt nearly 200 miles away. The flattened capital city left millions seeking shelter and medical attention and Haitian government officials estimated over 111,000 people lost their lives. Humanitarian organizations such as the Red Cross set up aid and relief efforts while streamlining donations by allowing individuals to text message pledges. Within days, over $355 million in donations had been raised through the combined efforts of companies, charities and individuals.

OPRAH MOVES ON

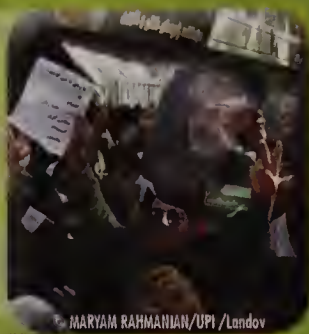

Popular syndicated talk show host and business tycoon, Oprah Winfrey, announced she would end The Oprah Winfrey Show in late summer 2011. The news came as a shock to fans that have elevated her status to nothing short of an icon since the show's inception in 1986. Early speculation indicated she may start a new show on her own Oprah Winfrey Network in 2011. Her show currently draws about 7 million viewers a day.

IRANIAN ELECTION PROTESTS

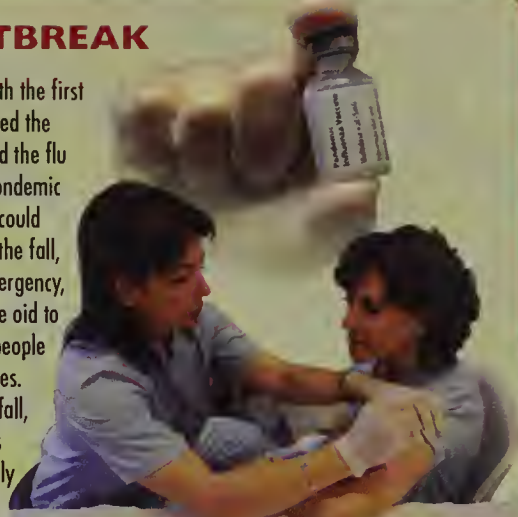

Iran's presidential election drew international attention when disputes over the winner sparked two weeks of protests. Reformist activists claimed Mahmoud Ahmadinejad's landslide win was a fraudulent mishandling of the ballots. The protests resulted in 20 fatalities, numerous arrests and trials for nearly 100 demonstrators facing charges such as attacking government property, violence toward security forces and creating panic in public.

H1N1 FLU OUTBREAK

In the spring of 2009, H1N1 emerged with the first reported cases in Mexico. The virus reached the United States in April and officials worried the flu would spread rapidly, causing a global pandemic and fear that the unpredictable flu virus could mutate into a more dangerous strain. In the fall, President Obama declared a national emergency, enabling the government to provide more aid to the states. In the U.S. alone, millions of people were infected and thousands lost their lives. When a vaccine became available in the fall, thousands flooded phone lines and clinics around the country, as the demand greatly outnumbered the first supply.

TOYOTA TROUBLES

Automobile giant, Toyota, recalled eight of its models after learning of a problem with its acceleration mechanisms that caused some gas pedals to stick and vehicles to accelerate without warning. Though the company said the problem is "rare and infrequent" it decided to recall about 4.2 million vehicles worldwide and brought U.S. sales and production to a halt. The company tried to remedy the situation and ease the nerves of uncertain drivers by sending new parts to dealers to fix the faulty pedals.

HEALTH CARE HURDLES

In groundbreaking sessions of Congress, both the House and Senate passed bills for health care reform after months of debate. The next step was to merge the nearly $1 trillion proposed plans for a final vote. If passed, the bill would become the largest federal health care expansion in forty years since the introduction of Medicare and Medicaid. The goal of the bill is to bring extended insurance coverage to an additional 30 million Americans.

SURPRISE PRIZE

A surprise to many, the Norwegian Nobel Committee honored President Barack Obama with the 2009 Nobel Peace Prize, just eight months into his tenure. The committee explained it was Obama's "extraordinary efforts to strengthen international diplomacy and cooperation between peoples" that brought his name to the top of the nominees list. Upon learning the news, the president remarked that he was humbled by the decision.

ARES BLASTS OFF

Forty years after putting the first men on the moon, NASA is once again elevating its space program with the new Ares 1-X Rocket. The streamline rocket's simpler design is cheaper and up to 10 times safer than its shuttle predecessors. Despite a successful first test in late October, officials say that the 1-X may not carry astronauts until 2017.

SHIFTING FRONTLINES

President Obama announced the deployment of 30,000 additional American troops to Afghanistan starting in early 2010, bringing the total U.S. presence to about 100,000 troops. The intended strategy was to combat the growing momentum of the Taliban in the region and to provide training for Afghan security forces. Plans to begin withdrawing troops were set for 2011.

DUBAI IN THE SKY

Marking a stunning architectural achievement, the Burj Khalifa in Dubai opened, becoming the tallest skyscraper in the world. The towering needle-shaped structure stretches nearly 2,700 feet into the air. The building has 160 stories which include apartments, office space and a hotel designed by Giorgio Armani. The eye-catching main attraction of a new shopping district, the Burj Khalifa reportedly cost $1.5 billion to build.

FOUND 18 YEARS LATER

The discovery of Jaycee Dugard 18 years after her disappearance renewed hope for families of missing children. When Dugard was 11 years old she was abducted by Philip Garrido while walking to her school bus. Jaycee was held captive in Garrido's backyard. Both Garrido and his wife face multiple charges, including kidnapping and false imprisonment. Jaycee has since reunited with her family.

MAD FOR iPad

Apple unveiled its highly anticipated iPad this year to mixed reviews. Many Apple devotees were excited about the tablet with its nearly 10-inch touch screen and 3G connection, while others were skeptical about the name and data plan. As part of the iPad, Apple also released the iBook, an application that allows users to see books on a shelf, change fonts, and touch the screen to turn pages.

PALIN RESIGNS

Alaskan Governor and 2008 Republican Vice Presidential candidate Sarah Palin resigned from office, saying that Lieutenant Governor Sean Parnell would "fight even harder" for Alaskans. Palin added that her decision was made to protect her family from further criticism and would also allow her to advocate for causes such as energy independence and national security. In January 2010, it was announced that Palin would join Fox News as a contributor.

BE MINE

Sweethearts®, the popular Valentine's Day treat, added a new phrase to its line of endearing candy love messages. Teaming up with the social-network, Twitter, the candy company started stamping "Tweet Me" on its heart-shaped candies. Sweethearts also plans to introduce a new iPhone app that would allow users to send electronic versions of the candy with personalized messages to friends' "Twitter" pages.

ELECTRONIC TEXT BOOKS

College students caught a break this year — with free text books. Flat World Knowledge allowed 40,000 students at over 400 colleges and universities to access their course materials online, for free, saving students nearly $3 million in the fall semester alone. With other options like print-on-demand and integrated audio and video, the company hopes to expand its offerings to other schools throughout the country.

GOODBYE GOOD MORNING AMERICA

In a teary farewell, Diane Sawyer said "goodbye" to Good Morning America and "hella" to ABC's World News. After more than 10 years on the weekday morning show, Sawyer replaced the retiring Charles Gibson as the anchor of the nightly news program. Sawyer's replacement was George Stephanopoulos, former President Clinton staff member and moderator of This Week on ABC.

FALL OF THE WALL REMEMBERED

Twenty years ago the Berlin Wall fell, marking the end of the Cold War and the divide between East and West Germany. To celebrate the anniversary, thousands of German citizens celebrated as 1,000 towers, all 8 feet tall, were toppled to symbolize the destruction of the dividing wall. The celebration was overseen by current German Chancellor Angela Merkel and former Russian leader Mikhail Gorbachev, who many hold responsible for reforming the former Soviet Union.

FRIGHTENING FLIGHT

On Christmas Day 2009, a Nigerian man attempted to blow up a flight carrying nearly 300 passengers from Amsterdam to Detroit, Michigan. Umar Farouk Abdulmutallab had a bomb sewn into his undergarments and tried unsuccessfully to detonate the devices as the plane made its final descent. Stringent security precautions were put into effect and President Obama ordered a thorough review of safety regulations. Al Qaeda later claimed responsibility for the terrorist act.

LINKING LANGUAGES

Historically, URLs have been constructed with Latin based characters like 1, 2, 3 and A, B, C. Now, after approval by the International Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN), domain names will appear with other characters from Arabic and Chinese languages. The chairman of ICANN, Peter Dengate Thrush said, "The coming introduction of non-Latin characters represents the biggest technical change to the internet since it was created four decades ago."

NYC FLYOVER

Workers in Manhattan, New York were panicked as a Boeing 747 and an F-16 aircraft circled the Statue of Liberty, causing many to fear a repeat of the 9/11 attacks. It was later discovered that the planes were official government aircrafts conducting a photo shoot. The official who approved the fly-over later resigned.

ON SHAKY GROUND

The South American country of Chile was the target of an 8.8-magnitude earthquake that destroyed many villages in its path. The next day the same south-central region of the country was struck again by a tsunami that created waves over 18 feet high. Approximately 800 people lost their lives and the destruction between the two natural disasters brought widespread shortages in food.

HOUSE PARTY CRASHED

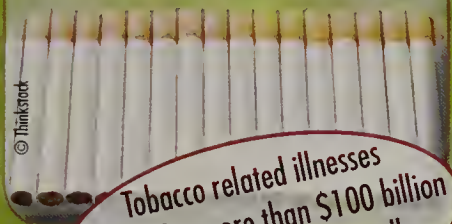

Virginia couple Tareq and Michaela Salahi, crashed the first state dinner held by the Obama's. Passing two security check-points, the couple mingled with Vice President Joe Biden and Chief of Staff Rahm Emanuel before exiting two hours later. The breach of security caused a full investigation by the Secret Service. Months later, speculation turned to White House social secretary Desiree Rogers who was criticized for not keeping a checklist of attendees as they entered the event. Rogers later resigned.

LATE NIGHT SHUFFLE

After 17 years, Tonight Show host Jay Leno passed the torch to fellow NBC late-night personality, Conan O'Brien — but not for long. The Tonight Show lost millions of viewers and Leno's new self-titled primetime show was deemed a flop. Just seven months after giving O'Brien The Tonight Show, NBC reversed course, returning Leno to his former seat. As part of the deal, NBC agreed to pay Conan $33 million, with $12 million going to his staff in severance. O'Brien hosted his last show on January 22nd, while Leno returned to The Tonight Show on March 1st.

PIRATES HOLD CAPTAIN CAPTIVE

After five days of being held hostage on the dangerous seas off the coast of Somalia, Captain Richard Phillips was rescued from his pirate capturers. In a tired moment, the pirates let down their guards long enough for U.S. Navy SEAL marksmen to take their shots, ending the lives of all three pirates. Days earlier, Phillips offered himself as a captive to the pirates in order to prevent them from seizing his vessel, the Maersk Alabama, ultimately protecting his fellow crewmen.

AERODYNAMIC SEEDS

"Helicopter seeds," the seeds from mople trees, have provided hours of fun for children but researchers were stumped as to what made the seeds hover. A team of Dutch and American scientists discovered the answer. When a mople seed swirls, a tornado-like vortex lowers the air pressure around the seed, sucking the wings upward to oppose gravity—insects, bats, and hummingbirds employ the same technique.

IN HOT WATER

Ocean temperatures around the world measured 1 degree higher than normal between June and August, averaging 62.5°F, according to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. August saw the warmest temps on record since 1880, when record keeping began. Though climate change is listed as a factor, meteorologists say the warming is also due in part to a natural El Niño system. Ocean heat puts coral reefs in harm's way and also contributes to melting Arctic sea ice and hurricane strength.

A FARMER'S FRIEND

Even plants have joined in the text-messaging craze. Through SmartCrop™ infrared thermometers planted in soil, plants can "tell" farmers when they are hot or thirsty. Most crops have an ideal temperature for growth and these thermometers allow farmers to be notified by text message if a plant has risen above the ideal temp.

GROWTH SPURT

The Bristlecone pine is the world's longest-lived tree, sustaining ages up to 4,800 years. Recently, researchers found that these ancient trees are growing at a much faster rate than ever before as evident by its widening rings. The growth is presumably due to the increase in temperature in their high-altitude climate over the past 50 years.

POO POWER PAYOFF

In response to rising energy costs year-after-year, Shawn Saylor turned to an unlikely renewable source to power his family's dairy farm. Using the manure from 600 cows, Saylor used a process known as anaerobic digestion to generate energy. Saylor explained that this method produces a savings of about $200,000 per year with the ability to sell left over energy back to the power company.

TINY T-REX

History's fearsome Tyrannosaurus Rex may have had miniature ancestors. A newly discovered ancient creature known as "Raptorex" closely resembles its massive relative, at only a fraction of the size. Experts report it may have weighed only 150 pounds compared to T-Rex's 13,000 pounds. Raptorex would have existed 60 million years before T-Rex, and despite its size, would have touted an extremely powerful bite.

LET'S GO FLY A KITE

Scientists from the University of California and the Carnegie Institution have discovered a way to create sustainable energy—through kites. High-altitude winds contain a vast amount of energy. By releasing kite-like wind turbines miles above the planet and tethering them to the ground, researchers believe they could create enough energy to supply electricity worldwide.

COOLING SUN

Scientists have discovered that the sun is at its dimmest in over 100 years. Typically, the sun undergoes 11-year cycles, culminating in the expulsion of solar flares and planet-sized debris. After 2008 the sun was expected to become increasingly hotter, but instead it was at a 50-year low for solar pressure and a 100-year low for sunspot activity. Although dimming of the sun has resulted in decreased temperatures in the past, the onset of global warming has likely counteracted this phenomenon.

COLOSSAL SEA MONSTER

The fossilized skull of an ancient sea monster called a plesiosaur was discovered along the Jurassic Coast of England. The skull—dating back 150 million years—measured nearly eight feet. Scientists believe the creature's full size was up to 52 feet long, making it the biggest plesiosaur ever found. The dangerous sea predator could have eaten a T-Rex for breakfast!

SOLAR ENERGY MAKEOVER

Developers have found two ways to make solar power panels more appealing to the average homeowner. First, underground panels use fiber optic cables to capture and distribute sun energy, instead of heavy panels. The second option is to incorporate shingle-like solar panels that have a thin copper film covering to absorb light energy into the roof. The Powerhouse™ Solar Shingle is expected to be less expensive and easier to install than full-size panels.

CARBON CAPTURE

Professor Klaus Lockner of Columbia University has created a "synthetic tree" able to capture destructive carbon dioxide 1,000 times better than real trees. When the wind blows through the "leaves", carbon is trapped and converted to a liquid form. One unit could remove up to a ton of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere a day—the equivalent of 20 cars.

ROBOTS CAN SWIM!

Mechanical engineers Kamal Yaucef-Taumi and Pablo Valdivia Y Alvarada of MIT designed robatic fish that can swim and maneuver just like real fish. They hope to one day use the robots to help patrol bodies of water such as lakes and rivers, looking for pollutants and inspecting underwater structures.

NOW THAT'S A RING

NASA's Spitzer Space Telescope discovered the largest ring around the planet Saturn. The never-before-seen ring is so colossal that NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory estimates that it would take 1 billion earth-sized planets to fill it. Composed of dust and ice particles, the ring's temperature is approximately -316°F.

H₂O ON THE MOON

For the first time, water was discovered on the moon's surface. NASA announced its significant find after reviewing data from an intentional satellite crash it conducted in search of water. The data also revealed there were more than just droplets but rather "a dozen, two-gallon bucketfuls." Experts said the discovery will open the door to other space exploration opportunities, including the potential for a sustainable lunar space station.

SUPER NATURAL GLUE

The asparagus beetle attaches its eggs using what is said to be some of the strangest natural glue in the world. A study discovered the almost invisible eggs require a pull-off force of "8,650 times higher than the egg weight." It's not unusual for an insect to produce egg glue and this research could lead to the discovery of other natural bonding agents.

GLOW-IN-THE-DARK PUPPIES?

Scientists in South Korea cloned a genetically engineered litter of pups, enabling them to glow red under ultraviolet light. The intention of the experiment was to prove that if fluorescent protein can be created through the modification of genetic code, there may be a way to fix genetic flaws in humans by similar innovations in genetic coding.

AUTISM BRAIN DISCOVERY

To learn more about the causes of autism, researchers conducted a study of MRI brain scans of 50 toddlers. Preliminary findings showed that on average, an area in the brain called the amygdala is 13% larger in young children with autism. It is believed that these children are born with normal-sized brains but later in the first year the area begins to grow larger. Autism is a developmental condition affecting as many as 1 in 150 children.

MIGHTY MICE

In a scientific breakthrough, two labs in China bred the first induced pluripotent stem cell (iPS) mice, meaning they were the first of their kind developed from adult stem cells, instead of the more controversial embryonic cells. Scientists reprogrammed the cells back to an embryonic state where they could again develop into actual mice. This discovery is strong evidence that iPS cells have the potential to be used for treating disease.

WHAT'S THE WORD?

Social networking giant Facebook grew to more than 250 million users in 2009 and was valued at about $15 billion. With that many users it's no wonder the site has become a part of our daily language. This trend became even more evident when New Oxford American Dictionary and the American Dialect Society announced their "Word(s) of the Year". "Unfriend" was the first internet-inspired word to take the Oxford title while the American Dialect Society announced "Tweet" as its top word for the year and "Google" as "Word of the Decade".

SEEING EYEBORG

Canadian filmmaker Rob Spence has lived with permanent damage to his right eye since the age of 11. In his efforts to regain vision, Rob partnered with a camera provider in an attempt to replace his eye with a wireless, battery-powered video camera for what is being called the "EyeBorg" Project.

TWITTER ON THE MIND

Millions share their thoughts, opinions and updates every day (or hour) using Twitter. But University of Wisconsin doctoral student Adam Wilson's research revealed a new use—establishing a form of communication for those with extensive paralysis. Wearing an electrode-covered cap, Wilson focused his attention on flashing letters on a computer screen while his brain activity was monitored to figure out which letter he wanted. In the end he was able to tweet 23 characters with his mind.

CYBORG BEETLES

Ripped from the pages of science fiction comes the government-funded cyborg beetle. Development began on a project that has scientists implanting miniature electrodes into beetles to enable them to control the insects' every move via remote control. Though still in testing, the high-tech critters could one day be used as military spies.

THE BLADELESS FAN

It's been 127 years since the standard electric fan was introduced and people have been pretty satisfied. Now, the Dyson company, well known for its innovative vacuum cleaners, introduced the first bladeless fan. The Air Multiplier pulls air through its base, which is then pushed through a hidden vent into the circular head of the fan to create an uninterrupted breeze.

DISPOSABLE TIMING CHIPS

After years of clunky timing devices and expensive lost chip fees, runners will benefit from disposable timing technology. Using radio frequency identification (RFID), race organizers can put an integrated tag on race bib numbers to accurately record time during competition. The cost-effective design also allows runners to simply throw away the chip after racing.

ENERGY SAVING LIGHT

Philips Electronics introduced a new energy-efficient LED light bulb that uses just 10 watts (compared to 60 watts of the standard bulb) and generates the same amount of energy but lasts 25 times longer as its counterpart. The bulb may save as much electricity as is needed for 17.4 million households in a given year. Philips Electronics LED bulb was entered into the U.S. Department of Energy's L Prize competition and if it takes the prize, the company could be awarded $10 million in cash and federal contracts.

TETRIS TURNS 25

With an undeniable place in video game history, the popular puzzle game Tetris turned 25. A series of new features for a new generation were announced, such as Tetris Acorn Drop, a concept taken from the movie Ice Age.

REALITY GAMING

Video games got a dose of reality by taking their inspiration from the news. Games like Hero on the Hudson, Swinefighter and Trillion Dollar Bailout allowed users to be a part of the headline-making stories. The two-dimensional games, mostly developed for internet or cell phones, were simple, allowing creators to release them quickly after the actual events took place.

WALK THIS WAY

Before iPods became the "it" way to listen to music on the go, there was the Sony Walkman. Once the leader in music technology, the audio cassette player and radio turned 30 this year. The grandfather of personal music devices allowed users to take their favorite tunes anywhere, ultimately paving the way for the Discman, the MP3 player and the iPod.

THE NEW FACE OF HOLLYWOOD

Legendary filmmaker James Cameron reshaped the movie industry by helping develop the advanced camera technology used in his blockbuster hit Avatar. Cameron helped pioneer a lightweight, two-lens camera that can shoot dynamic live action footage in 3-D and a head-rig camera that accurately records facial expressions. The result is a stunningly realistic, digitally created movie that captures even the most obscure details of an actor's face. The computer generated characters, like those in Avatar's fictional planet of Pandora, appear more realistic than ever before.

DIRTY WORK

A DustCart robot, reminiscent of Disney's WALL-E, recently took to the streets of Italy. The robot, which will be tested in cities around the world, responds to residents who place their trash and recyclables on the curb and call for pick up. It fills up its belly with unwanted waste, much the same as the traditional dump truck. Though not as efficient as a fleet of trucks, the DustCart manitars air pollutants and is much quieter, running on lithium ion batteries.

PURSUIT OF THE CUP

In a precursor to the World Cup next year, Brazil won the FIFA 2009 Confederations Cup held in South Africa. The Brazilians bounced back from a two-goal deficit late in the game to dramatically beat the U.S. It was the third tournament championship for Brazil and the 14th win of 15 games against the U.S.

YANKEES WIN 27TH TITLE

The New York Yankees defeated the defending champion Philadelphia Phillies in game six of the World Series. The win marks the 27th World Series title for the Yankees, the most titles in all of sports, and the first win in their $1.5 billion new stadium. Hideki Matsui was named series MVP with a record-setting six RBIs in game six, while Andy Pettitte became the pitcher with the most wins in the past season, claiming his 18th victory.

BUEHRLE PITCHES PERFECT

Chicago White Sox pitcher Mark Buehrle tossed a gem of a game on July 23rd to become only the 18th player in history to pitch a perfect game. The feat came two seasons after he threw a no-hitter, which makes him just the 26th player to throw multiple no-hitters in his career.

Mark Buehrle is the only active pitcher with two career no-hitters.

SAINTS GO MARCHING

For the first time in its 43-year franchise history and its first appearance at the big game, the New Orleans Saints won the Super Bowl beating out the Indianapolis Colts. With a stunning defensive performance and unstoppable offensive drive that dominated three quarters, the Saints claimed its 31-17 victory. Later, team quarterback Drew Brees was honored as Most Valuable Player having tied the record for most completions in a Super Bowl, finishing with 32 completions out of 39 passes for 288 yards.

CHAMPION MOM

Kim Clijsters rejoined the world of tennis in grand fashion. After retiring from the sport in 2007 to start a family, Clijsters returned to win the US Open. By defeating Caroline Wozniacki in the finals, the Belgian tennis pro became the first unseeded woman ever to win the 2009 US Open; and the first mother to win a Grand Slam title since Evonne Cawley at Wimbledon in 1980.

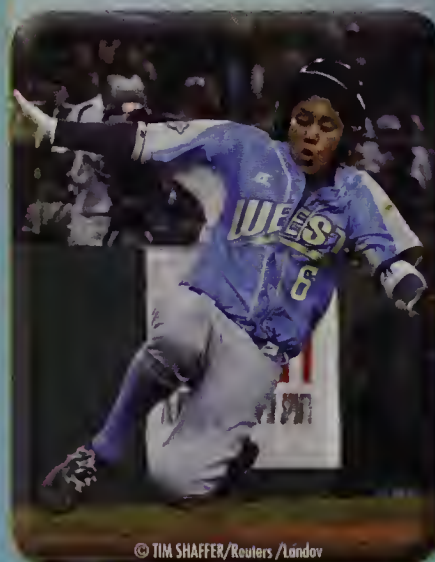

LITTLE LEAGUE WORLD SERIES

In a suspenseful final game, California clinched the 5th straight Little League World Series title for the U.S. Fans, including Vice President Joe Biden, watched and cheered as the team fought their way back from a three-run deficit to defeat Taiwan 6-3. After the game, the team celebrated its win with class, inviting the Taiwan team to join them in their victory lap.

VICTOR-JI!

Eun-Hee Ji, from Korea, won the US Women's Open. Going into the final round, Ji trailed American Cristie Kerr by two shots. With a double-bogey on the 10th hole, Ji's chance at victory looked slim. Kerr, however, had a disappointing final round, allowing Ji to come from behind, sinking a final 20-foot putt for the win.

WELCOME, WPS

This year marked the inaugural season for the Women's Professional Soccer (WPS) league. The league consisted of seven teams scattered across the U.S. with two more teams set to join the league in the future. With a score of 1-0, the Sky Blue FC team from New York and New Jersey defeated the Los Angeles Sol to claim the first ever WPS Championship.

GOLF GOES GLOBAL

From its birth in the Scottish countryside to the manicured greens of Augusta National Golf Club in Georgia, golf traditionally has been played by Europeans and Americans. In 2009, two players proved that golf has gone global. Angel Cabrera won The Masters Tournament to become the first Argentinean to wear the prized green jacket. Y.E. Yang defeated Tiger Woods, winning the PGA Championship and becoming the first Asian man to win a major title.

This was the Laker's 15th championship title.

LAKERS OUT TRICK MAGIC

The Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Orlando Magic in game five of the NBA finals. Four-time NBA champion Kobe Bryant was the standout star of the series, leading his team to victory and claiming the title of Most Valuable Player.

MERCURY RISING

The Phoenix Mercury defeated the Indiana Fever to win the WNBA championship. Fueled by stars Diana Taurasi and Cappie Pondexter, the Mercury prevailed in game five to take the title. Taurasi was honored with the series MVP award.

2010 WINTER OLYMPIC HIGHLIGHTS

Many historic and memorable moments were witnessed over the 17 days of the 2010 Winter Olympics, held in Vancouver, Canada.

- In a highly-anticipated showdown between the U.S. and Canadian hockey teams, the home team claimed the gold medal in overtime, becoming the first host nation in 30 years to win a men's gold medal in hockey.
- Reigning women's figure skating world champion, Kim Yu-Na of South Korea delivered stunning performances that brought her gold and put her 23 points ahead of silver medalist Mao Asada of Japan. Taking the bronze was Canada's Jaqueline Rochette whose mother unexpectedly passed away just two days before the competition began.
- U.S. speed-skating star Apolo Ohno became the most decorated winter Olympian of all time with a career total of eight medals, winning three in Vancouver—two silver and one bronze.

Chart Toppers

Swift is the youngest winner of the Entertainer of the Year award.

TWILIGHT SHINES BRIGHT

Now in its 10th year, the Teen Choice Awards recognized achievements in movies, television, music and more. Among the winners of the coveted surfboard trophies was Twilight, winning 11 out of 12 nominations, including Choice Movie Drama. The movie's stars, Robert Pattinson and Kristen Stewart also picked up top acting awards. In television, Chace Crawford and Leighton Meester won Choice Acting praise for their roles in the Choice TV Drama Gossip Girl. Jason Mraz and Taylor Swift both received Choice Music Artist awards.

SWIFT STEALS THE SHOW

The night belonged to Taylor Swift, 19, as she won all four Country Music Awards for which she was nominated. The singer won Album of the Year for Fearless, Video of the Year and Female Vocalist of the Year, beating out favorite Corrie Underwood. In her most impressive victory, Swift took home the trophy for Entertainer of the Year, making her the first female to win since 1999. Other winners included Darius Rucker for New Artist of the Year and Lady Antebellum for Vocal Group of the Year.

BEYONCÉ'S GRAMMY RECORD

There's no doubt the night belonged to Beyoncé, who was nominated in 10 categories and won a female artist record of six trophies including Song of the Year, Best Female Pop Vocal Performance, Best Female R&B Vocal Performance, Best Traditional R&B Vocal Performance, Best R&B Song, and Best Contemporary R&B Album. Taylor Swift was a close second with four wins including Best Female Country Vocal Performance, Best Country Song, Best Country Album and Album of the Year for Fearless. Among the night's most memorable moments was the appearance of Michael Jackson's kids, who accepted the Lifetime Achievement award on their father's behalf.

MICHAEL MAKES HISTORY

The American Music Awards were a night filled with emotion and history making. Adding four awards to his resume (accepted by brother Jermaine, pictured above), Michael Jackson became the most awarded artist in AMA history. Jackson won Favorite Male Artist in both the Pop-Rock and Soul-R&B genres, while his Number Ones album took home the top spot in both categories as well. Taylor Swift was also a big winner, taking home five awards in total, including the top honor, Artist of the Year.

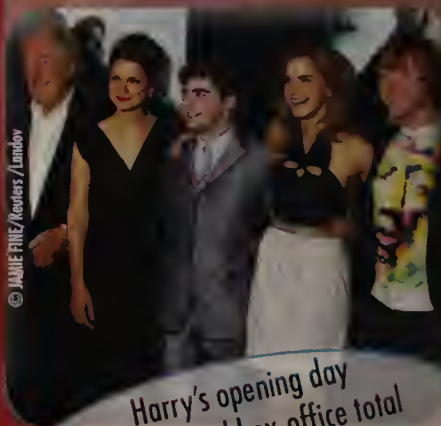

OSCAR'S BIG NIGHT

Hollywood's biggest night belonged to a lesser-known movie titled The Hurt Locker which picked up six awards in all, including top nods for Best Director, Kathryn Bigelow and Best Picture. Bigelow was also the first woman to win the Best Directing award. In the acting categories, Sandra Bullock was honored as Best Actress for her role in The Blind Side and Jeff Bridges was named Best Actor for his part in Crazy Heart.

MOONMAN MADNESS

The stars turned out for the Video Music Awards and the night was full of memorable moments. Janet Jackson paid tribute to her brother Michael with a moving performance to open the show. Later, in a controversial move, Kanye West stormed the stage, interrupting Taylor Swift's acceptance speech for Best Female Video. Despite the distractions, Moonmen were still awarded. Beyoncé took home the prize for Video of the Year, Lady Gaga was named Best New Artist, and Green Day won Best Rock Video.

Harry's opening day international box-office total reached $104 million.

MTV MOVIE AWARDS

Teens ruled the big screen this year at the MTV Movie Awards. Kristen Stewart won Best Female Performance for her role in Twilight, while Zac Efron won Best Male Performance for his musical performance in High School Musical 3. The hit vampire love story Twilight won top honors as Best Movie.

HIGH SCHOOL COOL

The Nickelodeon Kids' Choice Awards kicked off with its traditional hijinks when host Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson zip-lined over the audience in a stunning entrance. The evening's top honors went to High School Musical 3 for Favorite Movie and its star Vanessa Hudgens won Favorite Movie Actress. Miley Cyrus won for Favorite Female Singer and Twilight was named Favorite Book.

JUNO AWARDS

Nickelback, nominated five times, took home three Junos for Group of the Year, Album of the Year, and the Fan Choice Award. Hip-hop artist Kardinal Offishall earned Best Rap Recording, while Alanis Morissette won Best Pop Album. This year marked the 38th anniversary of the Canadian-based awards.

DECADE DARLINGS

In celebration of a new decade, Entertainment Weekly published their list of top entertainers of the 2000s. Rounding out the top five were actor Johnny Depp noted for his work in Pirates of the Caribbean; 10-time Grammy winner Beyoncé; Harry Potter author J.K. Rowling; American Idol judge and entertainment mogul Simon Cowell and Emmy award-winning writer/actress Tina Fey.

SKINNY SCARE

Despite being a popular fashion trend for years, skinny jeans could be causing nerve damage. Doctors reported seeing an increase of young women complaining of tingling or numbness in the upper legs, supposedly caused by the trendy pants. Diagnosed as a form of nerve damage, meralgia paresthetica is usually not permanent and the effects can be reversed by trading in the tight fitting jeans for a looser alternative.

WHATEVER!

In a survey conducted by the Marist Institute for Public Opinion, "whatever" was found to be the most annoying word in America. With 47% of the vote, the popular word of disinterest beat out other phrases like "you know," "it is what it is," and "at the end of the day." "Whatever" gained popularity in the 1990s after its use as valley-girl slang in movies like Clueless.

BOY HIT BY METEORITE

A 14 year old from Germany lived to tell his story after being struck by a meteorite traveling 30,000 mph. Explained as a massive fireball, the meteorite struck the boy's hand before hitting the ground. Though not seriously injured, the impact sent the child flying and left a three-inch scar on the boy's hand and a foot-long crater in the ground.

CAT EARNS DIPLOMA

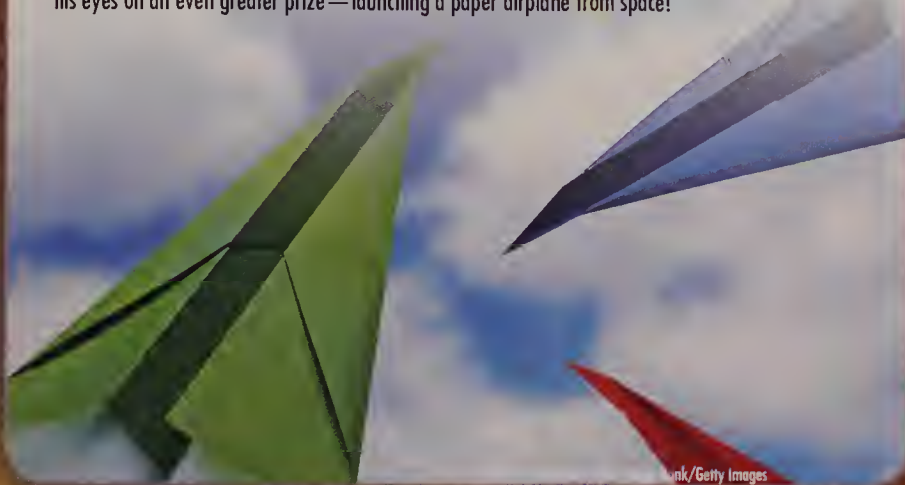

Oreo has always been a smart cat but did she really earn a diploma? Better Business Bureau Georgia president and CEO, Kelvin Collins, enrolled his cat Oreo into Jefferson High School Online as part of an investigation into online diploma mills. After a test and $200 fee, Oreo was the proud recipient of her high school diploma, though Collins admits he may have helped her answer the questions.

COVER YOUR EARS!

Competition reached a fever pitch at Thailand's Ripley's Believe It or Not Museum where contestants from around the world competed for the title of loudest scream. The winner, Russian Sergey Savelyev rang in at 116.8 decibels, just falling short of the Guinness World Record. Though he says he was "only getting warmed up," his winning shriek was roughly as loud as an ambulance siren.

LITTLE FASHIONISTA

While most 13 year olds are consumed by algebra, Tavi Gevinson had a different focus—high fashion. The teenager from the suburbs of Chicago shot to fame when her blog, Style Rookie, was discovered by two big name designers. Soon she was seated in the exclusive front row at several New York Fashion Week shows, impressing the industry with her poise and sharp eye.

LOST AND FOUND

Sixty-three years after losing his wallet at a high school basketball game, Bill Fulton received a surprising knock on the door. Remarkably, his wallet, which still included his social security card, was returned after being recovered during the gym's renovation. Having sent his children through the same school, it's likely Bill came within feet of the missing wallet several times since its 1946 disappearance.
